

More Nineteenth Century Stars

By Frederick Ivor-Campbell, Robert L Tiemann, Mark Rucker

Society for American Baseball Research. Paperback / softback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, More Nineteenth Century Stars, Frederick Ivor-Campbell, Robert L Tiemann, Mark Rucker, From the Introduction: Renewed interest in nineteenth century baseball--just a trickle when SABR's pioneering "Nineteenth Century Stars" was published--has become a steady stream. Every year since 1989 has seen the publication of one or more new books devoted entirely to the nineteenth century game, and books that treat the whole history of baseball are less likely than they were to undervalue the nineteenth century. It is even possible to witness authentic early baseball, as played by dozens of vintage ball clubs, many of them representing historic villages and museums. Most of the persons profiled are players, but there are also umpires, managers, club owners, league officials and baseball writers. There are men as prominent as Albert Goodwill Spalding, who after a brilliant pitching career founded what became the dominant sporting goods company, and then wrote the first history of baseball. And Michael "King" Kelly, the game's first superstar, who inspired the song "Slide, Kelly, Slide." There are others whose names are no longer familiar, like William Cammeyer, who first had the bright idea of putting fence around...
