DEATH OF A PLANET (PAPERBACK)

Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. MR Jason Piggott (illustrator). 203 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.There were some who thought they could hear the asteroid approaching, hear the whoosh as it carved its way through the atmosphere. Those people who could have heard it would not have lived to talk about it. It was just after ten in the morning when it struck, as it entered the earth's atmosphere it began to glow, a smaller asteroid would have been burnt up completely by this but the sheer size of this one prevented that. It was visible from all over Europe and many people stopped and stared as if hypnotized. During the last few days its approach had looked quite graceful, almost slow but the reality was much different. As this monstrous rock hurtled towards the earth it was travelling at over forty thousand miles an hour. Just seconds before it struck the air that it was pushing ahead of itself slammed into the ground flattening everything around it but then the asteroid finally struck the ground with the force of a hundred million nuclear bombs. It pushed down into the ground turning the rock molten. The blast wave travelled out from the crater vapourising everything in its path. Bearing in mind that seventy percent of the earth's surface is covered with water it was perhaps more than just bad luck that the asteroid came down on land. Although the earth's crust under the oceans tends to be rather thinner ranging from five to ten kilometres thick it is much denser. Over land the crust although considerably thicker is comprised of much less dense rock and therefore the impact that much worse. The asteroid punched a hole into the earth...
