Through stunning prose and original art, 'The Memory Palace' captures the love between mother and daughter, the complex meaning of truth, and family's capacity for forgiveness 'People have abandoned their loved ones for much less than you've been through,' Mira Bartok is told at her mother's memorial service. It is a poignant observation about the relationship between Mira, her sister, and their mentally ill mother. Before she was struck with schizophrenia at the age of nineteen, beautiful piano protégé Norma Herr had been the most vibrant personality in the room. She loved her daughters and did her best to raise them well, but as her mental state deteriorated, Norma spoke less about Chopin and more about Nazis and her fear that her daughters would be kidnapped, murdered, or raped. When the girls left for college, the harassment escalated - Norma called them obsessively, appeared at their apartments or jobs, threatened to kill herself if they did...
